Day 2 - 19 Sep (WED): LISBON

09:30 am – Departure to visit Centro Cultural de Belém and Museu Coleção Berardo.

The Museu Coleção Berardo housed in the Belem Cultural Center holds a treasure trove of works of modern masters of art such as Pablo Picasso, Salvador Dali, Max Ernst, Francis Bacon and Jackson Pollock. The collection is strong in European and American art both of the 20th and 21st centuries. The museum displays its 1000 works in rotation so you are never quite sure what will be exhibited at the time of your visit.

<https://www.ccb.pt/>

11:45 am – Mosteiro dos Jerónimos (Hieronymites Monastery), is a UNESCO World Heritage site (<http://www.manorhouses.com/unesco/whjeron.html>). A jewel of Manueline style, it is at this hermitage that Vasco da Gama and his men spent the night in prayer before setting out for India in 1497.

01:15 pm – Lunch at Museu do Oriente with fantastic views of the Tagus River and surrounding landscape. The Museu do Oriente is an international multi-disciplinary museum in scope and purpose. It seeks to provide all visitors with living and insightful memory of Asian cultures and centuries of relationships between the East and the West, particularly in regards to Portugal. www.museudooriente.pt/

02:45 pm – Visit MAAT - Museu de Arte, Arquitectura e Tecnologia and Central do Tejo (Museu da Electricidade). MAAT has opened the doors to the public on 2017. As a new cultural center in Lisbon, this new museum represents an ambition to host national and international exhibitions with contributions by contemporary artists, architects and thinkers. Designed by the prestigious British architecture firm Amanda Levete Architects – whose curriculum includes distinctions such as the RIBA Stirling Prize, the new building rises on the riverfront with an architectural narrative that is sensitive to the city's cultural heritage and future, offering, among other features, a pedestrian roof that offers a privileged view of Lisbon and the Tagus, and which immediately became an iconic location. <https://www.maat.pt/>

04:15 pm - Visit the Joana Vasconcelos's Studio. Joana Vasconcelos exhibits regularly since the mid-1990s. After her participation in the 51st International Art Exhibition– la Biennale di Venezia in 2005, her work became known internationally. Recent highlights of her career include Trafaria Praia, project for the Pavilion of Portugal at the 55th International Art Exhibition– la Biennale di Venezia (2013); a solo exhibition at the Château de Versailles, France (2012); participation in the group exhibition 'The World Belongs to You' at the Palazzo Grassi/François Pinault Foundation, Venice (2011); and her first retrospective, held at the Museu Coleção Berardo, Lisbon (2010). Between June and November 2018 Joana Vasconcelos will have a major exhibition at the Bilbao Guggenheim.

THE REST OF THE AFTERNOON IS FREE

Here you have our suggestions of other important landmarks in the same area:

Nearby you may also view and visit the amazing Torre de Belém, another UNESCO World Heritage site (<http://www.manorhouses.com/unesco/whbelem.html>), built in the middle of the Tagus River to protect the mouth of the river from invaders and to serve as a ceremonial gateway to Lisbon.

Museu Nacional dos Coches, the Coaches Museum has the largest and most valuable collection of its type in the world. It opened in 1905 in a richly-decorated 18th-century royal riding school that was part of Belem Palace, illustrating the ostentation and staggering wealth of the old Portuguese elite. On its 110th anniversary it moved across the street to a new building designed by Pritzker Prize-winning architect Paulo Mendes da Rocha. <http://museudoscoches.gov.pt/en/homepage/>

Palácio de Belém, the Belém Palace has, over time, been the official residence of Portuguese monarchs and, after the installation of the First Republic, the Presidents of the Portuguese Republic.

Food and Wine:

Food and wine are extremely important in the Portuguese way of life. Portuguese cuisine is extremely varied, differs by region and is defined by natural ingredients prepared both in traditional and creative ways. Fish, meat, olive oil, tomato and spices are the basis for many dishes, served with local breads and cheese. The country has many fine wine-producing regions, including the Douro Valley, which has the oldest wine appellation system in the world and is a UNESCO World Heritage Site. In addition to the famous Port wines, there are many distinctive white and red wines produced from indigenous grape varieties.

Portugal Food & Drinks

Portugal has a very broad gastronomy as the result of centuries of connecting world areas as the first “globalizer” and Porto, naturally is a city with a very large variety of restaurants many trendy others traditional.

All restaurants, bars, patisseries/delicatessen, etc, contacts and location can be find in the internet as well as all information about the city, theatres, cinemas, shopping centers (malls), etc.

Bellow you can find some of the best suggestions at Lisboa and Porto organized by area and with the indication of the site/facebook for further information.

LISBOA

Some suggestions by areas...

1. In the Chiado area

All restaurants that belong to Jose Avillez are good, namely Bairro do Avillez, Cantinho do Avillez, Mini Bar: <http://www.joseavillez.pt/pt/>

Palácio Chiado – <http://palaciochiado.pt/>

A historic building in the city center with several restaurants inside. Ideal for a light meal.

Topo Chiado – <https://www.facebook.com/TOPO-1679047655647575/>

It's divided into two different areas, one for cocktails on sofas or loungers, and another, up a flight of steps, for light meals. It's therefore a place for a meal at any time of the day, for cocktails in the sun, or simply for a drink after dinner, always to the sound of a chillout soundtrack.

Taberna da Rua das Flores - <https://pt-pt.facebook.com/A-Taberna-da-Rua-das-Flores-292950570719522/>

Recalling old grocery stores and taverns, this space brings to the present the ambience and traditions from Lisbon's past. Its meals follow long-forgotten recipes, from cod dishes to meat sandwiches. Doesn't accept bookings.

Pastelaria Benard - <https://pt-pt.facebook.com/Pastelaria-Benard-342234722482773/>

The Benard pastry shop was founded in 1868 as a tea house, and today is one of Lisbon's landmark cafés, with tables outside in the heart of the Chiado district. It has the best croissants in town.

Sea Me – really nice fish and seafood restaurant at Rua do Loreto

2. In the Santa Catarina area:

Pharmacia - <https://m.facebook.com/restaurantepharmacia>

Located in the building of the Pharmacy Museum by the Santa Catarina lookout terrace, this restaurant's decor is inspired by the pharmacies of the past. The menu consists of traditional Portuguese "petiscos" (tapas).

Madame Petisca - <http://www.madamepetisca.pt/>

Next to Santa catarina lookout terrace, at the top of the Monte Belvedere Hotel, this spot doubles as a bar and tapas restaurant. There's a beautiful view over the Tagus crossed by the 25 de Abril Bridge.

3. In the Bairro Alto area:

100 Maneiras – <http://100maneiras.com/>

It first opened in Cascais but moved to the capital in 2009. The Gastronomic excellence has been maintained, and the chef is still Ljubomir Stanisic, a Bosnian who has made Lisbon his home.

Terraço BA Bairro Alto Hotel - <http://www.bairroaltohotel.com/terraço-bairro-alto>

The small terrace on the top floor of the Bairro Alto Hotel is filled with comfortable sofas and chairs to offer river views along with cocktails and light meals, always to the sound of chill-out music.

PARK - <https://pt-pt.facebook.com/parklisboaofficial/>

The rooftop of a car park (7th floor) was transformed into a bar with a beautiful view over the city, the river, and the bell towers of Santa Catarina Church.

4. In the Príncipe Real area:

Pizzeria Zero Zero - <http://www.pizzeriazerozero.pt/>

All the ingredients used here are from Italy. It faces one of the city's most pleasant green spaces, the Botanical Garden. The small patio in the back opens onto the garden's vegetation, which can also be seen from the interior.

A Cevicheria - <https://www.facebook.com/ACevicheriaChefKiko/>

A giant octopus (made of sponge) hanging from the ceiling draws the attention of passers-by on the street, and it's an indication of what's served inside – ceviche. It does not accept reservations.

Chef Kiko has a nice new restaurant very near Cevicheria called Asiatico

Tapisco - <http://www.tapisco.pt/>

Celebrity chef Henrique Sá Pessoa offers a menu of Spanish tapas and Portuguese petiscos.

Corallo Cacau & Coffee - <https://www.claudiorcorallo.com/index.php?lang=pt#>

This shop specializes in high-quality all-natural chocolate and coffee from São Tomé and Príncipe.

The products come straight from the family plantation.

Copenhagen Coffee Lab - <http://cphcoffeelab.pt/?lang=pt>

Coffee shop, just around the corner from Praça das Flores, is meant to be a lab dedicated to the various ways of preparing and serving coffee. In addition to the variety of coffee, it also serves tea and hot chocolate, which may accompany a piece of cake or sandwich.

Memmo Principe Real: <http://www.memmohotels.com/principereal/memmo-principe-real>

Its bar and restaurant have a fantastic view, very nice décor and the food is great

5. In the São Bento area:

Gelateria NANNARELLA - <https://pt-pt.facebook.com/GelateriaNannarella/>

Between Praça das Flores and São Bento Palace is this artisanal ice cream shop which is also a “lab” for the Italian owner.

6. In the Estrela area:

XL – <https://pt-pt.facebook.com/XL-Restaurante-331205053588354/>

Because it faces the parliament building, this sophisticated restaurant often attracts politicians and businessmen, but everyone enjoys its superb soufflés and fried specialties. The wine list is excellent, offering a large variety of labels.

7. In the Alcantara area:

LX Factory – A factory complex from 1846 was reborn in 2008 as a “factory” of creativity and experiences. It kept the industrial spaces and invited companies related to the arts, which later brought shops, cafés and restaurants. Today there’s a little bit of everything, from fashion to books, to vintage furniture and contemporary design, next to dining options.

8. In the Cais do Sodré area:

Mercado da Ribeira - Traditional market and food court, with canteen-style communal tables, opened in May of 2014 and has become a major food destination. It mixes stalls from top chefs with different brands of local products, and the foods range from seafood to steak sandwiches, hamburgers, sushi and ice cream, among other specialties.

In the first floor of Mercado da Ribeira you have the new Pap'Açorda restaurant. It is worth a visit!

Gelateria Davvero - <https://pt-pt.facebook.com/gelatodavvero/>

Delicious Italian artisan ice-cream.

O Bom O Mau e O Vilão - <https://pt-br.facebook.com/obomomaueovilao>

Cocktail bar divided into small rooms also offers live music. Around the piano and several armchairs you may also catch movie screenings and other cultural events.

In the new EDP headquarters building you have O Wolt, a very nice restaurant also from Chef Kiko, owner of Cevicheria and Asiatico

9. In the Alfama area:

Portas do Sol - <http://portasdosol.pt/en/>

For a great view of Lisbon.

10. In the Campo de Ourique area:

Mercado de Campo de Ourique - <https://pt-pt.facebook.com/mercadodecampodeourique/>

Together with fish, seafood, meat, and fruits, there are also stalls specializing in pastries, pizza and sushi. It's open every day until late at night, ideal for meals throughout the day.

11. In the Santa Apolónia area:

Bica do Sapato: <http://www.bicadosapato.com/pt/>

One of the most iconic restaurants in Lisbon with an amazing view of the Tejo river. Just across the street from Santa Apolonia Train Station.

Lux Frágil: <https://www.luxfragil.com>

The most famous club in Lisbon is located next to Bica do Sapato.

In the same group of restored warehouses where Bica do Sapato is located, you also have other nice more casual restaurants like:

Deli Delux: <http://www.delidelux.pt>

Cais das Pedras: <http://www.caisdapedra.pt>

12. In the Avenida da Liberdade area:

JNCQuoi: <http://jncquoi.com>

At Avenida da Liberdade you have to have dinner here. Visit the Deli Bar and the shop below if it is open...
